

30 Compare and Contrast Essays That Every College Professor Likes

Compare and contrast essays are an integral form of essay writer. Teachers usually give such essays to students to test and evaluate their understanding of the topic. The topic could be historical, literary, social, or any other. To compare means to find out similarities and to contrast entails finding out differences.

These essays require critical thinking and a high level of focus. You develop your essay in such a way that you present the two sides of the coin. Your thesis and body paragraphs should follow this structure. However, sometimes it is hard to crack compare and contrast essays. You can always reach out to a renowned write my essay for help. Many platforms are offering diligent services to the students.

In this write-up, we are going to discuss 30 compare and contrast essays that are popular among professors' "essay writer". The topics have been divided into categories for the sake of better understanding.

Compare and Contrast Essays on Economy

1. i) Free market economy vs. state-controlled economy
2. ii) Key differences and similarities between economic theory and political theory
3. iii) Rich class vs. middle class
4. iv) Compare and contrast capitalism and communism
5. v) Is economic growth a positive or negative economic policy?
6. vi) Should resources be owned by the state or individuals?

Compare and Contrast Essays on Politics

1. i) Western political philosophy vs. eastern political philosophy
2. ii) Presidential system vs. parliamentary system
3. iii) What are the key similarities and differences between the Republican party and the Democratic party?
4. iv) Compare and contrast between political stability and civil war
5. v) Who should provide the education: state or private institutes?
6. vi) What are the key similarities and differences between legislature and judiciary?

Compare and Contrast Essays on Society

1. i) Rural society vs. urban society
2. ii) Compare and contrast between literate people and illiterate people?
3. iii) What are the key differences and similarities between formal social control and informal social control?
4. iv) Social deviance vs. social conformity
5. v) What are the key differences and similarities between terrorism and extremism?
6. vi) Social change vs. cultural change

Compare and Contrast Essays on Science

1. i) Compare and contrast between renewable energy resources and non-renewable energy resources
2. ii) What are the key differences and similarities between medieval sciences and modern sciences?
3. iii) Empirical science vs. non-empirical science
4. iv) Compare and contrast between the industrial age and the digital age
5. v) Compare and contrast between cell and atom
6. vi) What are the key differences and similarities between longitude and latitude?

Compare and Contrast Essays on Academic Writing

1. i) Argumentative essay vs. analytical essay
2. ii) Compare and contrast between research writing and essay writing
3. iii) What are the key differences and similarities between report writing and research writing?
4. iv) Blog writing vs. essay writing
5. v) Compare and contrast between descriptive essay and narrative essay
6. vi) What are the key differences and similarities between APA and MLA citations?

How to write a compare and contrast essay?

The structure of this essay is the same as that of other essays. It starts with an introduction, followed by body paragraphs, and ends with a conclusion. However, you can always consult a professional essay writer in this regard. Reaching out to experts is a prudent decision.

i) Introduction

The introduction should start with a hook that is aimed at engaging the reader. It is followed by introducing both subjects and presenting brief background information. In the end, the thesis should be included which is the gist of the essay writing service. The compare and contrast aspects should be included in the thesis comprehensively. If you manage to construct your introduction intelligently, your essay would take a highly promising start.

ii) Body Paragraphs

Each body paragraph should have one aspect of comparison or contrast. The body paragraph always starts with a topic sentence that describes that aspect. It is followed by giving evidence that proves your point. For instance, your subjects are two contrasting characters of a novel. You would fully describe how they contrast by giving evidence from the novel. It is always mandatory that you give a proper and comprehensive explanation of the evidence. The concluding sentence converges the whole idea back to the topic sentence.

You should take extra care while dealing with different aspects of the body paragraph. It is essential to maintain logical flow and the formality of tone. If your essay lacks these two characteristics, the reader will not get the idea and will lose interest. Thus, it is wise to keep a logical flow and eliminate all informal words and sentences.

iii) Conclusion

In the conclusion, you would prove how two subjects are different or alike. It should be highlighted which side makes more sense and why. The ending lines of the conclusion should leave an impact on the paper

writing service. The reader should walk away with a sense of contentment after reading the whole essay. The key is that the reader should not get confused or puzzled while reading the text. Sometimes an ambiguous conclusion spoils and undermines the whole essay.

Compare and contrast essays are sometimes difficult to handle. It is only through extensive practice that you can build your command on such essays. When I write my essay, I pay attention to all the details as have been mentioned above. You would be well-advised to go through some sample essays to build your understanding further in this regard. Sample essays give you first-hand knowledge on how to write compare and contrast essays.